

DISABILITY ACCESS COORDINATORS (DAC)

By County

Prepared by
Court Programs Division

Disability Access Coordinators (DAC) receive and manage public requests for reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), such as sign language interpreters, in North Carolina's state court system. The DAC coordinates with local courthouse authorities to respond to requests in a timely and efficient manner.

* Please request accommodations as early as possible but at least two weeks before your court date because some accommodations take time to schedule.*
